

JUNG TAO SCHOOL
OF CLASSICAL CHINESE MEDICINE

Starts September 29 – limited space remaining!

Classical Tui Na and Traumatology Series

Jung Tao School of Classical Chinese Medicine is pleased to announce senior practitioner and instructor, Dr. Jen Resnick, DAHM, will return to North Carolina to offer an advanced elective Classical Tui Na and Traumatology course. NCCAOM approval for up to 90 CEUs/PDAs is pending.

Dr. Resnick has been a senior instructor of the Zheng Gu Tui Na method of Classical Chinese medical massage for over 10 years. She has taught Tui Na and Qi Gong in the US, Canada, and Europe. Dr. Resnick practices in Manhattan, NY at Evolve Health + Wellness, and serves as faculty at three US based East Asian medicine schools. The series is based on the Zheng Gu Tui Na system, a highly effective method that provides tui na training with protocols that are modular, adaptable, and immediately applicable.

Attending the full series will provide the student with a complete set of skills to treat common internal and external conditions by engaging the concepts and techniques of Classical Tui Na, External Applications and Rehabilitative Qi Gong.

Enrollment Options:

- JTS alumni and students for academic credit (6 credit elective) - $1700
- JTS alumni, faculty, and students - $275 per PDA weekend session (no academic credit $1650 for full series)
- Discounts for non JTS alumni - when registering in advance for the full series ($300 per weekend PDA session/$1800)
